

Onefinestay Introduces Eco-Friendly Villas In Mexico And Caribbean

Lauren Mowery Contributor

From organic ‘seed to table’ gardens to dazzling saltwater swimming pools, these six villas are designed with sensitivity to the local environment. All are built using natural materials in relative sympathy to the landscape to balance nature, design, and luxurious comfort.

Villa Nanne, St. Barts

Villa Nanne offers four bedrooms, and four bathrooms for 8 guests. The property owners have put in place a plethora of sustainable initiatives, including a desalination station to produce its own drinking water, the use of natural, chemical-free cleaning products, and electric vehicles for traversing the sprawling 4.2-acre estate. Additionally, the buildings on property have been meticulously designed to encourage local wildlife to pass through and all have been built using natural materials to blend into the surrounding area.